

The Russian/Chinese Plan to Bring America Down

The leadership of Russia and China (both basically Communist countries), believe that the United States is a serious threat to them in at least six (6) major ways:

- 1 - our cohesive unity of purpose,
- 2 - our Judeo-Christian values,
- 3 - our democratic ideology,
- 4 - our technical prowess,
- 5 - our economic power, and
- 6 - our military might.

In response, their plan is to undermine each of these – and the more the better. Their effort is not a simple six-step sequential series, but rather a multi-pronged campaign. Some current issues (e.g. immigration) actually span several of the above items. What's very disconcerting is that the Communists have strong allies within our country – e.g. socialists, who are unwittingly supporting a Communist agenda.

Briefly, here is some of what the Russians and Chinese each appear to be doing (independently) about each of these six perceived threats...

1 - our Cohesive Unity of Purpose:

Even though our country was founded on protecting the rights of individuals, one of the main reasons the US has been successful, is that our diverse citizenry has worked together in tackling societal challenges. Our adversaries would like to separate us into various factions, so that we spend our time, energy and initiative on fighting with each other, instead of focusing our efforts on our real enemies (Communists). For example, it is in our opponents' interest to have our legislative system bogged down from within: so they actively support obstructionism. As a case in point, the more time our politicians spend on investigating specious conspiracies, the less they will be paying attention to the real Russian and Chinese collusion going on. "United we stand, divided we fall" is more true than ever. Pay attention to those who are really sowing discontent and divisiveness (e.g. the media), as they are acting as anti-American agents.

2 - our Judeo-Christian Values:

From its inception, the United States has been firmly rooted on Judeo-Christian values. Well aware of this underpinning and its societal significance, our atheistic adversaries have been chipping away at this foundation. Today we have the lowest percentage of citizens attending church/synagogue in our history. As a substitute, a new secular theology is being promoted: environmentalism. For many this has literally become their new religion. Due to this (and other) reasons, the critically important family unit has been severely degraded. There is evidence that this decline in Judeo-Christian values leads to more gun violence, more drug use, etc.. (BTW, the Communists are directly connected to the opioid/fentanyl epidemic.) This is death by a thousand stings.

3 - our Democratic Ideology:

The segment of our population most vulnerable to Communist propaganda is our children. As such, our sworn enemies have focused on seeing that our education system has gradually turned to producing sheeple (due to such corrosive efforts as rampant grade inflation, history revisionism, false equality standards). The resulting end-product is indoctrinated adults (citizens) with limited critical-thinking skills, who rarely have the capability of evaluating concepts beyond soundbites. Instead they have been impregnated with a Socialistic/Communitic entitlement mentality.

4 - our Technical Prowess:

Our Communist enemies have chosen three strategies here: a) wholesale stealing of our ideas and inventions, b) eroding our education system, and c) undermining our confidence in Science. The first has received a fair amount of press, and the second was just outlined (see #3). The Science aspect has hardly been mentioned, and it includes such efforts as corrupting the peer-review system, and encouraging scientists to abandon their professional obligations (e.g. of objectivity) by becoming overt advocates of political (often anti-American) agendas. Since almost every aspect of our lives is connected with Science (think climate change, and such platitudes as sustainability) the dire consequences to our society here are breathtakingly scary.

5 - our Economic Power:

It's not apparent to most people, but the bedrock of our entire economic system is the electric grid. (The US electric grid has been called the top engineering marvel of our society in the last 100 years!) The grid has been successful as it has carefully integrated several electricity sources that are reliable, low-cost and plentiful. The Communist plan to subtly upset this applecart is to flood the grid with unreliable, much higher-cost sources of electricity. Wind energy is a trojan horse designed to undermine our economy.

6 - our Military Might:

Russian and Chinese communists believe that if most of the prior items succeed, the military might issue will take care of itself. But just to make sure they are: a) building up their forces, and b) hindering our military where possible. A good example of the second tactic is that they are likely behind wind energy facilities being purposefully located near sensitive US military bases – so that their missions are undermined and their operational readiness is diminished. This has happened to an alarming extent.

Sometimes it's hard to see the forest through the trees. We need to step back and not only see the disconcerting direction these key items are taking, but to also see that there appears to be a coordinated purpose behind these seemingly unrelated matters. Please see two superior short videos (here and here) that cover most of this ground.

Where do we start here? How about the once honorable journalism profession making a commitment to be objective reporters of facts, not promoters of undeclared agendas?
